

1. They said you're stupid now you think that you are
They called you ugly, now you're convinced you are
They think you're crazy, now you know that you are I'll tell you something you don't know

No, you don't have to be the leader of the crowd
No, you don't even have to be in that crowd
When you are different that's just what they hate
I'll tell you something you would know

B. No matter who you are, you don't have to be ashamed
Do what you think is right, even that it's not the same
Others do, that your fight, just be you it'll be ok

R. It's in your head, more than you though
Now you are so, so bloody low All that I know
Is that your mind is full of those feelings
Baby, you should let go

2. They said, you're not like them, they said you're not cool,
They said you're foolish, one big dreaming fool,
When you are different that's just what they hate
I'll tell you something you would know

B. No matter who you are, you don't have to be ashamed
Do what you think is right, even that it's not the same
Others do, that your fight, just be you it'll be ok

R. It's in your head, more than you though
Now you are so, so bloody low All that I know
Is that your mind is full of those feelings
Baby, you should let go
